Ability and Hard Work
Mr. President, Why So Many?

Wanted 3-Headed Air Mail
"National City" Advice

Current Events
By Arthur Brisbane

THE WORLD recognizes ability, soon forgives failures of war.

THE White House yesterday the President received and warmly congratulated Dr. Eckener, tall, blond German, who brought over the ZR-3. Dr. Eckener and the able German air sailors that came with him were entertained at a formal luncheon at the Navy building by high United States officials and Dr. Baer, secretary of the German embassy.

THE GERMAN NATION received a terrific blow in that war, but got rid of Kaisers, and that probably was worth the price. Ability and hard work overcome everything in the end, and the Germans possess both to the highest degree.

COMMANDER C. B. TINKER, United States Navy, retired, and therefore free to speak plainly, says Japan "has launched an intensive program of airplane construction. Even Japanese school children are asked to contribute to building flying machines."

WITH SEVENTEEN flying machine factories working day and night, Japan's energy ought to interest President Coolidge, and those that share with him responsibility for national defense.

Why, Mr. President, does Japan want so many flying machines? Is there any connection between the building of these flying machines, modern fighting engines, and Japanese indignation at our immigration laws?

POLITE REQUEST to President Coolidge and Postmaster-General New:

Please make the trans-continental air mail a triple-headed service, something like Cerberus, watchdog of the infernal regions. It was a most efficient watchdog.

Air mail, direct from New York to San Francisco, should be made, of course. But there should be a splitting up of mail at some convenient point, perhaps at Salt Lake City, with direct flights from that point south to Los Angeles, north to Seattle, as well as to San Francisco. More splitting would come later. This country needs flying machines, and there is plenty of postoffice work for them to do.

THE FRENCH say "Appetite comes with eating." Appetite for American money also comes with eating. America has ten billions left in Europe, with little prospect of payment for the greater part of the money.

Private individuals have several thousand million dollars invested in European bonds, and have just bought $110,000,000 of German bonds. It is announced that various European countries are trying to borrow more billions here.

Mr. Mitchell, President of New York's National City Bank, biggest in America, looks at investors from the point of view of the American investor, and issues a useful warning against the discriminate floating or buying of foreign loans.

WALL STREET election gamblers bet even money that Coolidge will carry New York State by 500,000 votes. It will surprise John W. Davis when he learns how many votes that religious quarrel in the Democratic convention was destined to cost him.

GERMAN PROFESSORS believe that they have found the perfect gas ideal engine, thereby, permitting operations of LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT FOR AL SMITH, JR.

"AL" SMITH, JR., AND HIS PRETTY SYRACUSE BRIDE

When Al Smith, Jr., son of New York's governor, arrived at Albany with his bride the former Bertha Gott, daughter of a New York Central Railroad engine driver, his sister, Miss Emily Smith, met the newly weds and told them that everything was O. K. at the Executive Mansion and to come right up and receive the gubernatorial approval. "Guess Dad won't veto this bill," whispered young Al to his pretty little bride. The marriage has been copper riveted. In addition to the civil ceremony at Greenwich, Conn., Governor Smith commanded a religious ceremony which was carried out in New York City.

At Al Smith, Jr. did the next best thing. He saw Miss Gott as often as he could. Continued on Page 6, Column 6.

New York, Oct. 17.—William H. Gott, veteran engineer of the Twentieth Century Limited, never drove his steel charger faster than young Al Smith, Jr., piloted his romance with "Bill" Gott's beautiful daughter, Bertha.

While his hand rested lovingly upon the shoulder of his bride-to-be, the young man, who is the son of the late Governor Smith, was driving his bride to the Hudson River Hotel, where the wedding ceremony was to be held.

Liquors Worth $50,000 Taken at Manchester on Eve of Wales' Visit

On the eve of the arrival of the Prince of Wales at Hamilton choice champagne valued at $50,000 was seized off Manchester-by-the-Sea today by customs men and Manchester police.

The liquor was found aboard a boat master boat discovered stranded on Howe's Island shortly after sunrise.

Customs men believe, from the character of the cargo that it was consigned to wealthy residents of the North Shore.

The three men who made up the crew of the rum runner escaped in the tender before the police arrived.

Three men found in the vicinity later were taken to Manchester police headquarters and questioned for more than an hour.

CHIEF GIVES TIP.

Customs Agent William Harney and Chief of Police George R. Dean of Manchester collaborated in the seizure of the grounded craft.

Last night Dean received a mysterious tip that a cargo of real champagne, direct from France, was to be landed at Manchester, Beverly Farms or Gloucester. Close watch of the coast line was maintained. It was not until daylight that the motorboat was sighted, secretly grounded, not far from Norman's Cove.

She was a fast, powerful boat of handsome lines, according to the police and evidently the property of a man of wealth.

Customs men and coast guards were especially active today in their effort to cut off the steady flow of spirits from Rum Row to the Massachusetts shore.

BUTLER GRILLED ON FUND

Tells Probers G. O. P. Hopes to Raise $1,300,000 More to Fill the Quota

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The Republican national campaign organization intends, if possible, to collect $1,300,000 more to carry on its work between now and election day, William M. Butler, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, testified today before the Senate committee investigating campaign funds.

This sum would make up the $2,000,000 budget the Republican campaign committee decided at the end of last year to raise for the conduct of what Butler called a "year campaign."

"That is a modest amount in view of expenditures that have been made heretofore," President Coolidge's field marshal told the committee.

Senator Curaway inquired about the letter of a Massachusetts manufacturer, inviting contributions to the Republican campaign in exchange for the local amount with a promise that the contributions would be "covered up."

Mr. Butler declared the Republican organization not only had nothing to do with that, but disapproved of it.

THE ARKANSAS SENATOR wanted to know about the part assigned Joseph H. Grady of Bristol, Pa., to raise $300,000 in Pennsylvania. But he said the national organization had not approved of a letter sent by Grady soliciting funds. He admitted that he had conferred with Grady and others about raising funds in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Butler said he had addressed a luncheon meeting in Philadelphia en route to Washington, at which Grady was present.

"I told the budget at $2,000,000," said Senator Curaway, "and you called on Pennsylvania for $300,000 or one-fifth of the amount, why was that?"

Mr. Butler started to explain and Senator Curaway broke in.

"Was it because you received Pennsylvania as a fruitful field?" he asked.

"I hoped so," Butler replied. Illinois was put down for $400,000 of the total for a similar reason. Senator Curaway remarked that. Continued on Page 6, Column 4.

BOOSTED ONE CENT FARE

Strip Tickets to Be Sold at the Rate of 6 for 30 Cents

A fare increase from 5 to 6 cents on all existing 5-cent fare lines was voted today by the trustees of the Boston Elevated. Strips of five tickets are to sell for 30 cents.

The increase, according to the trustees, is necessitated by the $100,000 wage increase granted the 7,000 motormen, conductors and guards employed by the company.

Transportation experts, quoted unofficially, estimated that the move would increase the company's revenue by $1,000,000 a year. It provided not many become irritated and stopped riding.

About 25 per cent. of all the riders are affected by the increase, which abolishes the five-cent fare and makes all cash fares ten cents. To get the six-cent rate on former five-cent lines, passengers must buy the five-ticket strips.

The increase becomes effective November 1.

Before the wage increase was granted the Elevated lines faced a deficit of $700,000 for the year. The wage increase, which amounts to half a million dollars, will bring the total deficit for the year to $1,200,000.

The "L" trustees have already exhausted their reserve fund of $1,000,000 and there is a strong possibility that the various committees served by the trolley lines will be forced to make up this deficit in conformity with the public control act, which provides for just such a contingency.

BURNED AS HE TRIES TO LIGHT GAS RANGE

William Hardy, twenty-six years old, of No. 275 Atlantic avenue, was burned about the face, neck and hands today at his bakery in Atlantic.

Hardy, according to the police, had just started work and applied the torch to the gas range when an explosion occurred. The police say that the gas had been turned on unknown to Hardy. He was taken to the Bell Hospital.

MURDER AUTO LOCATED IN PORTLAND

The automobile said to have figured as the "death car" in the murder of Frederick A. Clements, 37-year-old garage owner of Burlington, has been found by the State police in Portland, Me.

It was said to be a used car dealer there, by Frank H. Morse of the South End of Boston, who, with his twenty-year-old pal, "Billy," are sought as the alleged slayers of Clements.

Morse, alleged leader of a gang of auto thieves, disappeared the day the body of Clements was found in Shawheen River at Bedford. Morse abandoned a wife and two children, who live in his lodging house on Tremont street.

REPORTED GONE NORTH.

The body of Clements was found on Thursday, October 2, and on the following Sunday night, October 6, Morse sold the car to the dealer in Portland.

He and "Billy" then went to Montreal. Morse is reported in Portland to have bought a second-hand motor cycle on which he started from Portland, according to information furnished to the State Police by the authorities in that city.

The car was procured by Morse from Edward Graham, business partner of the murdered man. Graham gave Morse the car and a small sum of money in exchange for another car, which was found to have been stolen and was seized by the State Police.

Morse and his companion were seen by a half dozen witnesses at the Clements Garage on the night of the murder. Halie Mowbray, brother-in-law of Graham, who worked as a mechanic in the garage, and who is now a prisoner in East Cambridge Jail, confessed that Clements, Morse, "Billy," a fourth man, and himself, had been drinking and that after Clements went to his car in the garage lot, Morse said "Billy" went up there for "more jack," and returning with $15 told Mowbray Clements was dead.

Mowbray told the police that Morse compelled him to accompany them in the auto with the body slumped there, wrapped in his clothing and weighed with the automobile parts and tools. Into the car, he said, they drove.

2 KILLED WHEN PLANES CRASH AT HIGH SPEED

Third Man Is Saved in Blind Plunge, Parachute Opening at 500 Feet

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 17.—Ensign Merritt J. Flanders, age 24, attached to the transport Yema, and Robert H. Kerr of San Diego, aviation chief machinist mate, naval air station, were killed in a collision between two Vought planes 1,300 feet above Coronado.

Gunner William Cole walked out on the wing of his Vought and plunged head first to the ground, his parachute opening after he had fallen 500 feet. He is suffering from shock, but is otherwise unharmed, according to naval physicians.

The collision occurred when Kerr fired his Vought plane out of a cloud hole. Cole, traveling faster than 115 miles an hour directly below, did not see Kerr's plane until the crash.

Kerr had no chance, either, to see Cole's plane, and the two ships came together with such a terrific impact that the crash could be heard for more than a mile.

POLICE ASKED TO HOLD BOYS IN TAR CASE

New Bedford, Oct. 17.—Albert Hollowell, of No. 44 Frederick street, in the South End section of the city, requested Captain John T. McKay of the South End precinct police station to bring into court the twelve young men in the South End who initiated his twelve-year-old son, James Hollowell, seven-year-old mill worker into membership of the Sunbeam Club, located on Butler street, against his will.

Young Hollowell was taken into the clubhouse where all his clothing was stripped from his body and he was covered with hot tar and powdered cement. All but two of the twelve young men who had been

In attendance left the building and the two that remained kept the young man a prisoner, finally leaving him alone in the dark.

In a semi-conscious condition he managed to crawl through the darkness to his home, where he collapsed on the floor of his home. His step-mother, Mrs. Annie DeLoe, noticing his condition, immediately summoned Dr. J. B. W. Roberts, who found the young man had been ill treated.

Young Hollowell, is confined to his home suffering from a shock as a result of the treatment. He told the police that he visited the club on an invitation and that he had hardly entered the building when he was surrounded by several young men who literally tore his clothes from his body. The boys will be summoned into court here next week. The police are withholding their names.

RUSSIA SEIZES U. S. COLONY ON ISLAND

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 17.—A P. O. C. colony intended to establish British title to Wrangell Island in the Arctic Ocean, north of Siberia, was carried off by the Russian armed transport Bol Oksker, which raised the Russian flag there August 29, it was learned here today.

New York, Oct. 17.—Vladimir Stofanov, who a year ago founded the colony on Wrangell Island, which was reported from Nome today to have been carried off by a Russian transport, said there were fourteen in the colony, consisting of thirteen Eskimos led by Charles Wells of Unalakleet, P. A., a native born citizen of the United States. The colony was not founded in behalf of Great Britain, but in behalf of the United States, through an American corporation in Nome, Stofanov declared. "This situation is up to the United States," he said. "The Russian claim to Wrangell Island is weak," Stofanov said. "No Russian ever saw Wrangell Island as far as we know until 1911. That was 62 years after the British discovered it and 20 years after the United States steamer Captain and Rogers planted the United States flag there in behalf of their government."

The explorer pointed out that he was a Canadian by birth and a long time resident of the United States. All his work on the island had been in behalf of these two countries and he was convinced from his historical studies that Great Britain and the United States were the only nations that had a claim to the island.

YOUNG SLAYER DENIES LOVE NOTES HIS

Middleburg, Pa., Oct. 17.—Ralph Shadel, eighteen-year-old farmhand and son of Harvey C. Wilson farmer, gave additional testimony today against Mrs. Anne S. Wilson on trial for complicity in the killing of her husband.

Shadel, who has been sentenced to ten to twenty years for his part in the crime, denied on the stand that he had written the love message read in court. Counsel for Mrs. W. low intimated that they had been written by him and sent to Mrs. W. while both were in the Snyder County jail.

One of the eleven letters read. That was a rather casual letter, he said, involving how Mrs. Wilson liked her treatment in jail. Several of the exhibits had been written on the inside of chewing gum wrappers. Sheriff Runkel testified that several times he had accommodated Mrs. Wilson in her request to "take a little of this pack of chewing gum." He said he was certain she hoodwinked him by sending messages to Shadel on the inside of the wrappers.

SALEM BOY'S BODY FOUND IN CULVERT

Diver Ends Two-Day Search for Child Drowned in Sluiceway

Salem, Oct. 17.—After two days of unremitting effort, the body of five-year-old Albert Cicotti, drowned in a sluiceway running from Mill Pond, was recovered in a culvert under the Boston & Maine tracks today.

The body was recovered by Daniel Dwyer, a diver, who made three trips into the culvert, crawling past his hands and knees in the dark. The first department had previously stated the culvert, the boy's body was to be torn off if Dwyer had not been successful.

DEMAND SAFEGUARD.

The finding of the body added impetus to the demand that the culvert and pond emptying into it, be safeguarded so that the lives of no more children be lost.

Little Albert Cicotti, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cicotti of St. Paul's street, was playing for minutes on the edge of the sluiceway, when he fell in. His three-year-old brother, Lucien, with Leonard Michaud, the same age, ran screaming from the spot.

Mrs. Cicotti, seated in a window of her home only 150 feet distant, sped to the spot and tried to rescue the boy, but without avail.

SWEET OUT OF SIGHT.

The body was swept into the culvert and out of sight. Then began the attempts to recover it, which ended today.

The culvert passes under the Boston & Maine tracks near the freight yards off Canal street. It is comparatively small in diameter and was choked with debris. Dwyer spent an hour on each of his trips into it, during which he was forced to work in the dark.

APARENT WOOD COMES TO GRIEF

Pays $55 in Fines for Accosting Pretty 16-Year-Old East Boston Girl

The kind of chap who sticks to a thing through thick and even thin, come storm, sunshine or blizzard, was Herman Krausman, marine engineer in his serious hours, but in idle moments a ship of the rural sort, between green and red Stoughton bottles glows in the drugstore window as late as 9 p. m.

For the inside on Herman, there is the police blotter and the word of Felicia (her name), as pretty a girl and year-old miss as ever sailed her way daily through the pitfalls of the great city.

Felicia, as a matter of fact, is a modest girl, who rivals the sweetest of the candy she packs day after day in the Largest factory at the North End—you know what we mean. Big eyes, long lashes, thin lips curling on her soft cheek and that sort of thing.

HERMAN WICKERACKED.

In short, Felicia is decidedly refreshing to look upon and Herman, truth be told, the police blotter and mama to tell, looked long and ardently when Felicia would wander her way inward to No. 29 Tremont street, East Boston.

Herman's evening position was one of a slight angle against a building at the ferry entrance, from where, it is charged, he wickeracked a true yodel style.

While Felicia, every evening, gave an unconscious act in one of "Poppy Pansies," she figured that the poet in Herman would wear off after a few evenings, but she didn't know Herman.

"You're a peach," he repeated nightly, she averred. Sometimes he would vary it by declaring, "You're a corker." "Pretty baby?"

MOTHER APPEARS.

Now if Felicia had been even a year older at the beginning of her fatherhood, she might have suggested that Herman spread some oil because he was slipping—or in other phrases indicated that Herman, in her eyes was about ten pounds lighter than an ounce of fat.

Instead she got tired of it after a few weeks and cried out the story to her mother. Herman was surprised to be clucked in a firm motherly hand the next night and the police came to his chemo.

Today, in East Boston Court, Herman, who is thirty-three, paid $55 for accosting Felicia, and $5 for drunkenness.

BUTLER GRILLED

If the Republican organization had gone on the same percentage basis through the 48 States it would have received more than a billion dollars.

"No," said Mr. Butler. The Republican National chairman was excused after he had agreed to supply a detailed list of all campaign contributions and expenditures within a few days.

After examination of George Barker, director of the publicity bureau of the Republican Committee, Chairman Borah announced the adjournment of the committee subject to call. The investigation had expected to hear today Frank P. Walsh of Kansas City who is to present Senator La Follette's charges of an effort by the Republicans to raise a "dummy" fund in doubtful states, but they were advised that Mr. Walsh could not reach Chicago before tonight.

La Follette Gives Out New "Slush Fund Letter"

Washington, Oct. 17.—La Follette-Whelan headquarters here today made public a letter they asserted had been written by George B. Ward, head of a New York banking company, and which they said would be presented to the Senate campaign expenditure committee as part of "additional proof" of Senator La Follette's "slush fund" charges.

The letter, which solicited funds from the baking and allied interests

Mrs. George Von L. Meyer, Sr., Going to Paris This Month for Extended Visit

By BETTY ALDEN

"DAMNED" in Paris, would make an apt, as well as alliterative title for a society drama.

Every day I hear that yet another member of the haute monde is about to embark for the gay French capital, whether it be for a winter of study, a round of shopping adventures, or merely for a few months' absence there.

Mrs. George von L. Meyer, Sr., is sailing on the 22nd of this month for Paris, where she will be joined by two daughters, Renora, Guinevere Brambila (Julia Meyer) and Mrs. Christopher R. P. Rodgers, (Aliza Meyer).

At present Mrs. Meyer is at "Rock Maple Farm," her North Slope estate at Hingham. It was there that, falling Julia, Anneton Meyer became the bride of sister Brambila. At the time of the wedding—that was seven years ago—Sister Brambila was en route to the Italian embassy in Washington.

A few years ago Sister Brambila was promoted to a place in the Italian cabinet, and since that time she and the former Julia Meyer have been making their home in Rome, where the mistress of "Rock Maple Farm" has paid them frequent visits.

AS FOR Julia Anneton's sister, Mrs. Rodgers—when the two were regarded as belles of Boston and Washington society—their late father was ambassador to Italy and ambassador to Russia—then Aliza Meyer was most particular that her name should be spelled as you see it here.

She was the younger of the two girls and joined the ranks of "marital maidens" as the Social Register terms them, two years before the sister named Edith rode.

Since her marriage to Lieutenant-Commander Rodgers, U. S. N., the young people have spent much of their time abroad, and so marriage has robbed Boston society of two most attractive members.

WEEK or so ago, Miss Rosemond Murray, second daughter of the T. Morris Murrays, sailed for Paris, where she will remain for a winter devoted to study.

Miss Murray, who made her bow to society two seasons ago, has spent much of her time on foreign shores, either at school or traveling about with her family.

Dr. and Mrs. Murray—the Winter abroad is on Maritime strand—she remaining here into the Fall at their Summer place in Pomfret, Ct.

The oldest daughter of the house, Miss Mary Murray, recently joined the family at Pomfret after a Summer abroad.

Mrs. Moore Douglas Robinson, the former Dorothy Jordan of Boston, gave a luncheon the other day at Pierre's in New York.

Mrs. Samuel Frothingham has closed her Lenox villa and is occupying a cottage on her estate for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Shurtlett.

Beautiful daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. Morris Murray of Marlboro street, is spending another Winter studying in Paris. Miss Murray made her bow to society two seasons ago. She is a reigning favorite.

MISS ROSAMOND MURRAY.

mer abroad, and the only son, Edward Murray—Ned to his intimates—returned a short time ago to England for a year at Oxford. Ned Murray is a chap of unusual talent, being especially gifted with the palette and brush.

Miss Nancy Murray, the youngest of the Murray girls, is still a debutante.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Fay and their family are back at the Cambridge residence after passing the Summer at Nahant.

A PARTNER OF SUNLIGHT

Cold-liver oil has aptly been called the partner of sunlight. Both out of Nature's storehouse of energy are of supreme importance to a child with rickets.

For decades to give strength to weak-bones. A little of Scott's Emulsion with each feeding does wonders for a malnourished child or adult.

Keep your boy or girl out in the sunlight and give them Scott's Emulsion everyday—regularly!

JOLSON MAKES COOLIDGE LAUGH ALOUD

Washington, Oct. 17.—Presidential state hours closed today at the White House. At Jolson and about 100 members were in determining the hour for breakfast by arriving at 10:30 after the president. He waited an hour and a half past his usual breakfast time. Mr. Coolidge dropped from the crowd.

of wit and fun, however, propensities at 10:30 to meet the cabinet at the regular hour, just as his guests were joining in the chorus of "Keep Coolidge."

On the White House lawn, the actors entertained Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge, not only with songs but with impromptu speeches. Jolson mixed in a few "presidential jokes" and was successful in his threat to make Mr. Coolidge "laugh out loud."

WOMAN LEAPS TO DEATH IN NIAGARA

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 17 (N.Y.A.)—After grappling with the swift current a few feet from the foot of Niagara Falls, Thomas O'Riley, a falls guide, lifted the body of an aged woman from its watery grave and onto a bare rock.

In precisely the same manner, but with the aid of a basket, an attempt will be made to bring the corpse ashore.

The woman was among several sightseers who stopped off at Luna Island viewing the falls.

Before climbing over the rail she took off her coat and flung it on the ground. In it was discovered a pocketbook with a small amount of money and the following note:

"If anything happens to me, do not have me taken home, but have me taken to a hospital or police headquarters and please notify my son, Morris Hart, No. 111 West 14th street, New York city."

The missive was signed "Mrs. Hart."

Mrs. Macey O'Boyle and her daughter, Margaret, both of New York, saw Mrs. Hart make the jump. They told the police they had made the trip from New York to the falls on the same train with Mrs. Hart.

HUNGARIAN MINISTER NEARLY LOSES ESTATE

Prague, Oct. 17.—An accidental delay in the payment of state taxes, amounting to 3,000,000 Czechoslovakian crowns, on the estate near Rosenberg of Count Ladislaus Szechenyi, Hungarian minister to the United States, almost caused the Hungarian nobleman to lose a considerable quantity of his property today. The failure to pay tax caused the authorities to advertise the auction of 1,000 sheep, 8,000 pounds of cereals and several tons of farm machinery belonging to the estate and 400 paper boxes assembled for the sale. At the last moment, however, the estate administrator appeared with the money and the auction was called off.

BOYS STOLE DYNAMITE TO MAKE "PRETTY" FIRE

BANK THIEF'S FREE SENTENCE SUSPENDED

William J. Hanifin Took $90,000 and Fled, Then Returned to Face Trial

Springfield, Oct. 17.—William J. Hanifin, who absconded with $90,000 of the funds of the Union Trust Company, and fled, then returned to face trial.

W. J. Hanifin

In District Court today he was given a suspended sentence of two years in the House of Correction. Suspension of the sentence is conditional on his continued good behavior.

William C. O'Brien, president of the Union Trust Company, where Hanifin was a guard until he ran off with the funds, has secured the instant absconder another job in a factory in Indian Orchard, in which O'Brien is a partner.

OFFICIALS CONFER

Judge Wallace R. Hendy imposed sentence. There was a conference at the bench between John H. Madigan, prosecuting attorney, William J. McKechnie, Hanifin's lawyer, and William Smith, probation officer.

"In view of the prisoner's good behavior and the fact that his former employers have interceded for him, I am resolved upon probation," said the judge.

Hanifin left the courtroom immediately. He seemed affected, but would not discuss the case for publication.

The bank guard eloped with $90,000 on September 25, and a few days later sent nearly all the money back from Chicago. He wrote Mr. Gilbert that he was returning to Springfield officers met him at Albany and he was brought here under arrest.

CONSCIENCE STRICKEN

At the time of his return the prisoner said he did not know what made him take the money. He added that when he left Springfield he meant to lose his identity and use the money, but in Chicago his conscience began to function and he suffered remorse for his betrayal of those who had been kind to him. There has been a rumor that Mr. Gilbert was prepared to give Hanifin another chance at the bank, but this has been supplanted by a special police officer.

EUROPE PUTS ON SWANK; TAILORS WORK OVERTIME

London, Oct. 17.—Continental Europe is no longer going to put on tatters and has begun to put on swank again in the gay manner of pre-war days. Germany in particular is absorbing huge quantities of the best British cloth. The German tailors are crying for merino wool and only the finest quality will satisfy them. Orders are also increasing from France and Belgium.

SLAYER OF STATE TROOPER CONFESSES

Reading, Pa., Oct. 17.—Philip A. Hartman of Annyville, Pa., confessed to the police they said that he held up and robbed the State trooper, and when pursued by State police shot and killed Trooper Frank L. Kelly. Gerald Chapman, the $100,000 mail bandit, had been seen in the area.

H. H. KOHLHAAS DIES SUDDENLY AT CAPITAL

Washington, Oct. 17.—H. H. Kohlhaas, noted former Chicago publisher and close friend of many Presidents, died suddenly today at the home of Secretary Hoover. He had come to Washington for a visit and although he had been in poor health for some months he had not been considered serious. He was seventy-one years old.

Death resulted from a stroke of pneumonia suffered by Mr. Kohlhaas at the Hoover residence on Tuesday. Mrs. Kohlhaas and their two daughters, Mrs. Porter Palmer of Chicago and Mrs. Roger Sheppard of St. Paul, were with him at the time of his death.

For many years Mr. Kohlhaas had been on terms of friendship with a wide circle of public men. He was known for his questions to McKinley, Roosevelt, Wilson and Harding and many times had been a house guest at the White House.

EAGLES GIVEN RABID WELCOME ON ARRIVAL IN SYRACUSE

ODDS EVEN ON B. C. BATTLE

Syracuse, Oct. 17.—The Boston College football team entered a strange city this morning, but the welcome they received looked more like the return of a victorious Syracuse team. Hundreds of B. C. rooters greeted the squad as they stepped from their special train.

Maroon and gold banners flashed before the sleepy eyes of Syracuse citizens as the auto parade left for the Hotel Onondaga. Not in years has Syracuse witnessed such enthusiasm on the part of college men. It is estimated that more than five hundred B. C. students and alumni arrived with the Purple squad, only a fraction of the crowd expected from Boston before tomorrow noon.

It was not long before the entire city of Syracuse caught the fever of excitement over the coming clash between Boston College, one of the most formidable teams in the East this year, and Syracuse, whose record for the past few years has lived it high in the football world.

HOPE FOR GOOD WEATHER.
Captain Joe Kosiowski, the smiling Pole who will lead the Eagles against Syracuse, when interviewed just smiled, and answered, "We're going out there to win, and we'll do our best."

Coch Cavanaugh spoke of many things in his own speech, but the only definite thing he would say about the game being that he hoped the weather would be good. The entire Purple squad is in fine shape, with the possible exception of Joe McKenney, McKenney's injury is a daily well-known fact, but it could not be definitely ascertained whether or not he would start against Syracuse. The chances are, however, that McKenney will be in there calling signals, at least a part of the time.

The Purple squad went to the breakfast, for a workout. They met through their drill with another of the best squads in the East, the Syracuse squad, who are of course, the team of the moment, but they may have been in the place that ended over the field.

'WE'RE READY HARVARD!' IS H. C. BATTLE CRY

while the Maroon and Gold squad was exhorting about the field. ORANGE BACKERS WARY. Money has not begun to talk very loudly on the outcome of the game. Syracuse sports are anxious to learn a little more about the Eagles before placing their bets. At present the odds are about even. They will start tomorrow, favoring Syracuse slightly.

a badly battered flier, loaded with students and screaming B. C. banners drove through the business section. The occupants were not really heavy with sleep, but they seemed to squawk B. C. cheers as they drove along the route.

"Where's the signal?" inquired the first of the machine of a traffic officer. The officer showed, but he of the B. C. banner, strained and yelled, "If you don't know now, you'll surely know by tomorrow afternoon that it's a fight here!"

Seven men, a team in themselves, will be unable to get into action today. The Purple.

Harvard's greatest loss will be in the line. The Purple's greatest loss will be in the line. The Purple's greatest loss will be in the line.

'LITTLE THREE' SERIES WILL START TOMORROW. Middle-town, Conn., Oct. 17.—Education for a few minor injuries, the Purple team is in the best of health condition to meet Amherst tomorrow. Day, the crack back, but otherwise all the first string men will be in the lineup.

Win Harvard Net Title. Harvard University doubles tennis team won the Harvard Net title. The team is in the best of health condition to meet Amherst tomorrow.

Williams Has Easy Day. Coach Wendell gave the Williams team a very easy day as far as strenuous work was concerned. The team was limited to the second and third teams. The varsity went through a long drill in which they were defeated by the B. P. I. game Saturday, were released.

ATHLETICS BUY ORIOLE HURLER FOR $100,000 GREEN FIGHTS COCKINESS; 60,000 MAY SEE GAME

Baltimore, Oct. 17.—Robert M. ("Lefty") Groves, the Baltimore International League Club's pitching ace, was sold to the Philadelphia American League Club for a sum announced by Manager Jack Dunn as $100,000.

Groves, who bats from the left, is twenty-five years old, weighs 170 pounds, and is six feet two inches tall. He has been playing professional baseball for six years.

In his five years as an Oriole pitcher he has tossed 1,137 innings and has won 108 and lost thirty-eight games. He is part in winning the sixth straight championship for the Baltimore team this year was twenty-six victories, six defeats and 230 strikeouts.

However, M. H. Oct. 17.—The Green squad of thirty-three men is today in New Haven where the Dartmouth eleven will meet Yale's football team for the first time in twenty-four years. A huge mob will be given to the players, the under-graduates lining both sides of the street from the gym to the campus as the buses which carried the men to White River Junction drove through their midst.

At the close of the final workout Coach Hawley, while not pessimistic, expressed a decided worry over the outcome of Saturday's game. "It must be remembered," he stated, "that Dartmouth will line up against Yale as an undefeated team."

The Dartmouth team which will take the field against Yale is one composed essentially of Green men, in every sense of the word. The players are not only or overconfident in the least, realize that the odds are against them when they take a team of veterans on a strange field this Saturday.

New Haven, Oct. 17.—Yale's line-up for the Dartmouth game tomorrow will not be announced until tonight. Again, it may not be picked until just before the team takes the field against the Green for the first time in its years.

In the Bowl yesterday the two first variety teams had only signal drill and a dummy scrimmage. These two teams lined up as follows:

First Team—Bingham, in line; Sturrah, in line; Leavoy, in line; Root, in line; Larnan, in line; Cullen, in line; Allen, in line; Ford, in line. Second Team—Hart and Osborn, under Richards and Butterworth; tackle; Harnett and Bokart guard; Bart, center; Bannell, quarterback; Scott, Fulling and Kline back.

A crowd of 60,000 is expected to see the game Saturday if the weather is good. The demand for tickets is greater than for any early season game in the history of Yale football.

CALL MONEY'S GIVEN CALL BY TICKER

By B. C. Forbes

Who pays the wages a workman receives?

His employer?

No, Henry Ford in the call money market on the lead when he declared: "The product pays the workman's wages."

Henry Ford's total fortune, with John D. Rockefeller's thrown in for good measure, would not pay the wages of American workers for one month. Have not most of us seen that our wages are paid by our employer? and are we not inclined to think that the only reason we do not get more is to limit it? If we work for a company, it is not as generous as we could wish. Is it not true that we seldom stop to analyze how our employer finds the money to pay us?

"The product pays the wages."

If all we can do is to get that thought fixed in our mind, might it not do something to bring about less misunderstanding and friction between employers and their workers?

I confess that when I was a small kid I had the notion that the loss was the sole arbiter of how much a worker's pay should be and how much it was wrong.

Do not a very large number of workers still have this view?

Of course, it is wrong.

How and why?

Money cannot be paid out in wages until it is first taken in. The dealer must be covered.

What brings in money for wages and everything else?

The product sold.

It doesn't matter in the least what the product may be.

A quart of wheat cannot be taken out of the treasury that contains only a pint of money. Even the dealer must be covered.

How does money make work out of it?

It is an illusion, because the employer pays a trade union, for example, to be assumed that a trade union exists. It is in the nature of a trade union to pay the wages demanded by its members.

The fact apparently is that when S. R. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, along with other members of the union, is elected to the position of president of the union, it is a fact that a dispute over wages has arisen between Mr. Stone and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America. The dispute is not a dispute over wages, but a dispute over the right to strike.

"What would happen if Union Labor, through the agency of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in an industry, stepped over the line into the domain of the employer and made up a market for wages demands that prevailed any day for the average investor?"

The answer is instructive and diverting provided by the correspondence of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and has been sent to the public, apparently in some confusion.

Mr. Stone, brother being head of the Engineers' Brotherhood, writes bank and does other things besides being a union leader. He is the chairman of the board of a soft coal mining company. In the same way, Mr. Lewis is the chairman of the board of a coal mining company. In the same way, Mr. Stone is the chairman of the board of a coal mining company. In the same way, Mr. Lewis is the chairman of the board of a coal mining company.
